Engineering out hazards

* The use of mechanical devices, distance, ventilation, or other ways to separate the worker from the hazard

* Examples include:

  -- remotely operated drum punchers,
  -- effective ventilation of confined spaces,
  -- sealed cabs on heavy machinery
  -- wet-saws for masonry

* Engineering controls are the most preferred way to reduce or eliminate potential exposure to hazards.